

Born Again

these are real
and also true,

the subterranean life of the trees and the plants the slow invisible motion of winter

the abrupt modern memory in a panic to forget our presumption of death and the limits of our vision our surprise when we see rising out of the earth

no Lazarus
but the will

to return to the world and drink of the light

the loves that keep growing unseen

Originally appeared in Forge
Volume 3, Issue 4, Spring 2010 <http://www.forgejournal.com/>