

Cancer

Cancer is not an ugly word though it calls to mind a crab with forty thousand heads and infinite claws and dirty pincers clipping furiously at the single frayed thread that suspends each of us above the well where we have buried and hidden our hopes of a painless exit from a long and greedy life ended with the dignity that everyone deserves.

Originally published in Alba Issue 16, January 2009

http://www.ravennapress.com/alba/issue_16/eriksen.html