

Hunger

She grips the headboard and braces against his thrusting, abandoning her mind the way she surrendered her soul not an hour ago to the guy who bought her a hamburger with an extra large order of fries, encouraging her to eat, eat, eat cause you never know when you're gonna be hungry again.

Originally appeared in The Citron Review
Fall 2010
<http://thecitronreview.wordpress.com/>